South Seattle Community College's Puget Sound Industrial Excellence Center (PSIEC) and Pacific Associates are hosting Helping People Manage Change as part of its Business Breakfast series.

The session features international speaker, consultant, and management expert Robert Jeffers, who will share strategies to help employees and employers manage change both externally and internally in the workplace. Participants will learn the tools managers will need to stay successful in the current climate and the realities of getting things done with fewer resources.

Space is limited so register now.

This program is pending approval for 2.0 recertification credit hours toward PHR, SPHR, and GPHR recertification through the Human Resource Certificate Institute (HRC).

The Georgetown Campus is also home to the Puget Sound Industrial Excellence Center (PSIEC) and the Labor Education and Research Center. The PSIEC offers corporate and customized contract training programs designed to meet specialized workforce needs. The PSIEC serves as a focal point for businesses, labor and community in support of economic development, educational opportunities, family-wage jobs, and global competitiveness in greater South King County. The PSIEC also rents facility space for meetings, training, and conferences, and supports long-term onsite partnerships with the Manufacturing Industrial Council, Aerospace Joint Apprenticeship Committee, YouthBuild, and other training organizations.
