FACULTY STIPENDS

This 4-session training is designed for faculty who plan to teach identity-based courses and student services staff and administrators who work specifically with BIPOC student populations. Participants will actively engage in activities designed to cultivate a deeper awareness of their own cultural identity and develop tools and best practices to teach and work more effectively with BIPOC students. Participants will learn to build community, trust, and establish safer spaces for culturally conscious classrooms and workspaces.

This training is funded by our AANAPISI grant at South Seattle College, focused on increasing underserved Asian American and Pacific Islander (AA&PI) student voices in the classroom and student services.

AANAPISI is 100% federally funded by the U.S. Department of Education in the amount of $300,000.00 per year for a period of five years (Oct 2021 - Sept 2026) and is administered by South Seattle College.
