The purpose of this computer lab is to provide a collaborative study environment for IT industry related courses and for everyone to seek assistance with computer/internet/connectivity/application issues, questions and concerns. Preference of use on the computers is given to the students taking CTN designated courses as there is no other place on campus for these students to access the specialized software outside of the classroom. If the computers are open, you are may use them as this computer lab is open to all students, faculty and staff.

This room cannot be used as a lunch room. The tables are for group study. If you have any questions, please ask the mentor on duty.
